NEWS AND VIEWS . . .

And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

While we are still probably a week away from any real action by the 61st Legislature in Austin, the tone of the session upcoming was pretty well set by Governor Preston Smith's speech to the joint session last week.

The governor surprised a great many people with his far-reaching recommendations. But the real battle lines of the session will be determined when he gives his message on spending and taxation.

Frank W. Calhoun, one of our two representatives in Austin, sends out periodic releases while the Legislature is in session and we received his first one this week which we are including here.

"After a slow start, the regular session of the 61st Legislature is finally on the move. With some old familiar faces becoming adjusted to new unfamiliar jobs we should see some action this week.

"When Governor Preston Smith spoke to a joint session of the Legislature last week he challenged us to 'Get the Show on the Road.' And, he laid out a program that could cause it to be a long road.

"Some of the surprises Smith promised emerged as recommendations to reduce the voting to not lower than 18, resubmission of a Constitutional Amendment to raise the ceiling on State Public Welfare contributions, devise a 'Work-Release' program for selected prison inmates, and consideration of a fair minimum wage for Texas workers. The Governor also strongly urged economy and made it clear that he would be favorable to only such spending as absolutely necessary.

"Of particular interest to the Big Country is Governor Smith's favorable attitude toward the Texas Water Plan. He is very concerned about the very real probability of a water shortage in Texas by the year 2000. To avoid this situation, we must begin now to implement the plan. Adequate provisions are set out in the Texas Water Plan for making both municipal and irrigation water available to the Big Country to insure continued growth and progress. It is urgent that the Legislature take the first step by proposing a Constitutional Amendment providing a plan for financing the State's share of the cost in the Texas Water System. I strongly support the efforts to implement this plan."

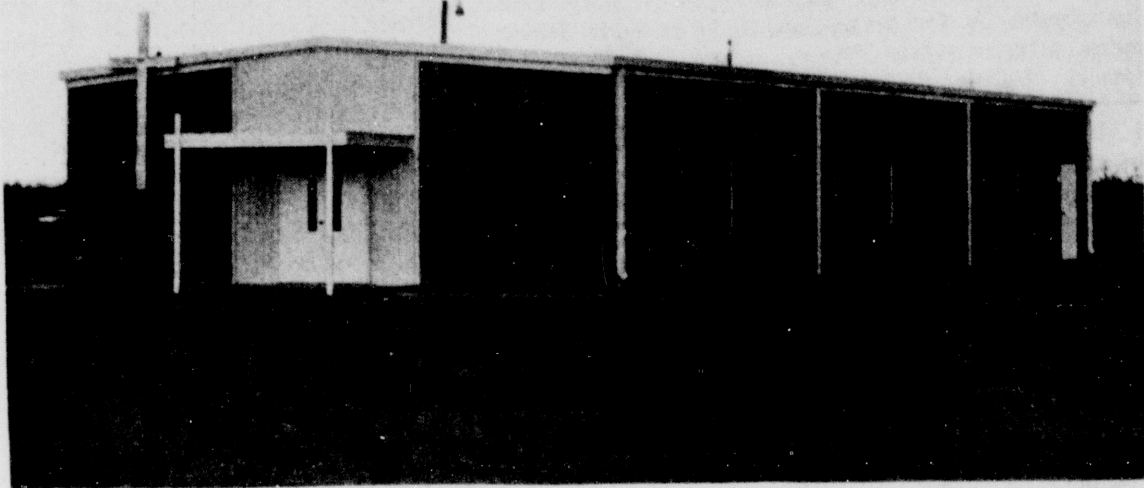

We note that Gil Lain was honored as an offensive lineman on the West Texas Chamber of Commerce All West Texas Academic Football team for class AA. Gil, with a 94.6 average, and a boy from Ballinger, Lorenzo Pena, were the only two from District 7AA to make the honorary team.

To qualify for nominations to these teams the students had to be classified as seniors, maintain much better than average grades and must have been selected to represent his school on an all-district team.

J.W. Gay, a former one-time resident of Hamlin and a half-brother of May Gay, was recently featured in the Waco News-Tribune for his nearly 60 years of newspaper publishing over Texas.

Mr. Gay moved to Hamlin from Oklahoma and worked here for the Herald and later worked on the paper in Rotan before moving to Central Texas. He has published the Moody Courier since 1938 doing most of the work himself until recently when his doctor told him to slow down. He still publishes the Courier each week but has it printed in McGregor.

He is quoted in the feature story as saying that looking back over nearly six decades as a newspaper publisher he doesn't know of anything else he would rather have done. "It keeps me busy regularly," he says.

Spicy Pancakes For Breakfast Variety

Traditionally little girls acquire their sweet dispositions from "sugar and spice and everything nice." But an occasional dash of lemon adds variety. Serve these Lemon-Spice Pancakes to little girls, big girls, men and boys for sunny smiles all around the breakfast table.

The freshness of grated lemon peel and the gentle spice of cinnamon and nutmeg combine to give the pancakes a flavor lift. Served with sweet, fluffy honey butter, they're guaranteed, breakfast winners! Easy pancake mix preparation gives you a lift, too; convenience and dependability contribute to your own "sugar and spice" feeling.

LEMON-SPICE PANCAKES
Makes 8 servings

Honey Butter:
½ cup butter or margarine, soft
½ cup honey
Pancakes:
2 cups pancake mix

2 teaspoons grated lemon peel
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
2 cups milk
2 eggs
2 tablespoons melted or liquid shortening

For honey butter, beat butter until creamy. Gradually add honey, beating constantly.

For pancakes, place mix, lemon peel, cinnamon and nutmeg in bowl. Add milk, eggs and shortening. Stir lightly until batter is fairly smooth. Pour batter onto hot, lightly greased griddle. Turn pancakes when tops are covered with bubbles and edges look cooked. Turn only once. Serve with honey butter.

Piper Patter

Beth Craig

The Pipers are realizing that victory is the ingredient it's going to take to capture the 7-AA Championship. Last Friday, they scalped the Haskell Indians 61-47. Tuesday night they defeated Stamford Bulldogs, 48-38. Piperettes also brought home a victory from Haskell. They eased by the Haskell girls 42-40.

The Student Council held a regular meeting Monday night in the board room. The Stage Band will play in their first contest Saturday, at the Hardin-Simmons Stage Band Festival. The same program will be performed Friday afternoon during an assembly for HHS students.

The Spanish Club will meet tonight in the cafeteria. The meeting will begin at 6:00.

Two new faces have been added to the faculty in the past week. Mr. Barney Popnoe took Mr. Williams's place, and Mrs. Pam Collins took Mrs. Fowler's place. HHS students would like to extend to them a hardy welcome.

As It Looks From Here . . .

Omar Burleson, M. C.
17th District, Texas

Washington, D. C. — On two occasions during the past two years, the need of reform in methods of electing the President and Vice President of the United States has been discussed.

On November 30, 1967, reference was made to the Constitutional Convention of 1787 which established the Electoral College system. On March 21, 1968, comments and speculation was made on the possibility of the 1968 Presidential election being thrown in the Congress for a decision. Fortunately, that situation was averted but the possibility remains that such could occur in the future.

As the new administration begins, Congress is once more faced with the issue of improving the method of electing of our two highest officials. Our present system was designed to preserve the importance of all States, large and small, in electing a President and Vice President.

The idea behind the electoral college was to combine the two principles of representation worked out as great compromise of that Constitutional Convention. Each State was admitted to the Union on an equal basis. Each State was granted two Senators and two votes in the Electoral College to reflect this equality.

The framers of the Constitution recognized that the States were unequal in respect to population. For this reason of inequality, each State was granted members in the House of Representatives of the Congress in proportion to its population with one electoral vote for each and additional electoral votes for the two Senators. Thus, the Electoral College is appointed not only according to population but also a bonus of two votes to protect smaller States. The electoral strength of more than 1/3 of 50 States benefits by reason of this special bonus.

Present day problems arise because the framers of the Constitution could not at that time foresee the "winner take all" situation created by modern political parties. The winning Presidential candidate in each State gets all the electoral votes of that State. A bloc of a few thousand votes can turn an election one way or the other.

The disproportionate strength of a small bloc of votes has come about because all States have adopted the practice of voting for a slate of electors at large. Under the system, the political party obtaining a plurality of votes, even if less than 50%, obtains all electoral votes as a matter of custom and practice.

To correct this situation which has evolved over the years, reform is urgent. A number of proposals have been introduced in recent Sessions of the Congress and already several plans are being proposed in the new Session.

One approach is to abolish the Electoral College entirely and hold a Nation-wide, direct election of the President and Vice President. On the surface the plan has appeal but under such a system a popularity contest could easily develop. One vote could decide an election. Some popular figure, such as a football hero or other notable of passing fancy, could emerge as

STATE Capital NEWS

By VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN — Immediate implementation of the Texas Water Development Board's $10-billion Water Plan (to take water to every part of Texas, lowering the voting age to 18, lifting the constitutional ceiling on state public welfare contributions, and a gradual revision of the State Constitution) were some of the surprises Gov. Preston Smith offered the Legislature.

All 181 Legislators had been pacing themselves for the first two weeks of the session, waiting to see what their new governor wanted from them, and now they know his aims. But he has yet to reveal his budget and tax recommendations, which will have tremendous bearing on whether his programs are enacted.

Governor Smith lauded the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System's plan to provide upper-level senior colleges in Midland-Odessa, Corpus Christi, Houston and Dallas and a four-year college in San Antonio, but he did not adopt it specifically. However, he did embrace the board's recommendation for the new state medical schools in Houston and Lubbock, a new dental school in San Antonio, and state participation in Baylor University's dental and medical schools.

He called for a state police certification program for prison parolees, an "implied consent" D. W. I. test to cut down on traffic accidents involving alcohol, "enlarging" the Parks & Wildlife Commission to obtain better geographical distribution, and raising workmen's compensation benefits from $35 to $45 a week.

Governor Smith endorsed the 1968 State Democratic platform (which had his approval), but he added: "I have read the Texas Republican Platform. I think you will find the two quite similar."

Smith's message to the Legislature left unanswered the question of spending and taxing. He called for economy, but conceded that new taxes may be needed. His recommendations as to what should be spent and where it should come from will follow in another message.

His legislative program was very extensive. Rural legislators who have been getting objections to the proposals for school consolidation made by Gov. John Connally's Committee on Public School Education were glad to hear Smith call that plan impossible to pass. He did agree with the Committee that there should be some school consolidations, but he felt they should be voluntary.

Attracting much interest was the fact that the new governor did not mention in his list of proposed constitutional amendments the one to allow local option liquor-by-the-drink. Instead, he merely gave legislators a copy of the Democratic platform which called for a statewide vote of the question.

His message came after a colorful inaugural program which brought thousands to Austin. A "victory dinner" attracted 6,000. As many as 40,000 may have attended the six inaugural balls. More than 100 units took part in the inaugural parade.

When Smith and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes took office, they gave the Capitol the first West Texas team since 1947. West Texans were prominent among those in Austin to cheer for the men from Lubbock and DeLeon.

Cotton Pickin's

ROLLING PLAINS COTTON CROWERS INC.

Every aspect of the 1968 cotton crop in the Rolling Plains has exceeded the 1967 crop except the market, according to B. B. Manly, Jr., officer in charge of the Cotton Division of Agriculture Marketing Service, USDA, Abilene.

With an estimated 10,000 more bales to go, Smith-Doxey classes of C&MS at Abilene will have handled samples of nearly 500,000 bales produced by Rolling Plains farmers in 1968, Manly reported Jan. 9.

As of Jan. 7, this year the cotton examiners had already classed 444,382 bales from last year's crop, he said. This compares with a 258,702 bale total for the 1967 crop in the Rolling Plains.

Increases have been almost as great in the other classing offices serving Rolling Plains farmers. As of Dec. 27, the Memphis, Texas office which serves Childress, Cottle, Collingsworth, Donley and Hall counties, had been classed 135,473 bales. The office in Munday handling Baylor, Haskell, Knox and Throckmorton, had classed 91,929 bales. The office in Altus, Okla., which classes Texas cotton from Foard, Hardeman, Wichita and Wilbarger counties, had classed 42,921 bales from south of the Red River.

The crop has been fantastic Manly said. The grade and staple showed vast improvements. The fiber improved. When the gins clean up what is in the yards, the plants likely can close down for now until the beginning of another season.

"Ginners and others in the cotton industry expected a better market year than in the past. It has not come up to expectations."

"During the first week of 1969 the market has been slower and lower than last week in 1968. At the start of the 1968 marketing year, prices were pretty much the same as for 1967, except for longer

FORTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
(January 25, 1924)

The Hamlin Luncheon Club held its New Year banquet at the Morgan Hotel Thursday evening and the attendance was one of the largest and most enthusiastic body of business men that has assembled at a Hamlin gathering for a number of months. There were seventy-five members present and each one voiced an assurance that our citizenship is united solidly for a bigger, better, and busier Hamlin.

Before the meeting was adjourned a flash-light picture was taken of the audience seated at the splendid turkey supper table.

Neinda News: We are glad that the Boyd Chapel people are recovering from their defeat, but sorry they still have sore throats and bad colds.

Here is the personnel of the boys team: Clinton Gillis and Elmer Boyd, Guards; Clyde McLendon, Center; Jones Boyd, Forward, H. Grady Howard, Forward.

There will be a debate and program at the school building, Friday night. The subject for discussion is Resolved that the U. S. Should Enter the League of Nations. Affirmative: T. E. Howard, T. A. Durham. Negative: J. L. Weaver, G. W. Poe.

We had a pie supper and a cake for the prettiest girl Friday night, and Miss Dorothy Greenway got the cake.

Last Tuesday night was the regular time for the meeting of the Hamlin Luncheon Club. Following the usual Morgan Hotel feast, the program and business session took place. Chairman Tate may reviewed the Luncheon Club work and stated that some thought it wise to change the name of the club to Hamlin Chamber of Commerce. On motion to this effect the name was changed.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
(January 28, 1949)

Held for four days in the grip of the year's worst blizzard, Hamlin and the surrounding area were given assurance of a break in the extreme cold when clearing skies Thursday morning brought the first appreciable thaw to ice-covered grounds.

The blizzard struck Hamlin Monday morning and sent the mercury plummeting to 16 degrees.

O. T. Kelley, personnel manager for Celotex Co., made a classification talk at the Wednesday noon meeting of the Hamlin Rotary Club in which he discussed the operation of the Celotex plant.

Because of an increase in voluntary enlistments during the past few weeks, inductions into the armed services by draft will be suspended for the months of Feb. and March.

Members of the Junior Literary Club met last Thursday afternoon in the home of Miss Janet Bonner.

Jo Anne Johnson and Juanice Young gave a talk on "Do's and Don'ts for Dating," and Mrs. John Green Jr. gave a talk on "What We Should Know About Our Ethics."

T. C. Robertson announced this week that he is opening a grocery store on the Rotan highway.

J. B. May holds first honors as high point man for the Pipers basketball team, Jesse Burditt, coach, said this week.

May has scored 111 points in 13 games. Lewis LaBaume is second with 78 points. Joe Allen Dean has 72, Donald Rowland has 48 and Stanley Butler has 43.

TEN YEARS AGO
(January 29, 1959)

Mrs. John C. Bryant was hostess to members of the Xi Gamma Phi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi last Thursday evening in her home.

The following members were present: Mmes. George Poe, E. J. Hawkins, Jim Ballard, E. D. Perrin, Arlie Cassle, W. T. Johnson, Earl Smith, Wesley Nail, M. L. Smith, Weldon Griggs, Gerald Young and Jerry Waggoner.

Joan Hallum has been named 1959 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow at Hamlin High School.

Further improvements at the rodeo arena grounds of the Hamlin Riding Club will be made possible by the net proceeds from a box supper scheduled by the club group.

Cecil Sellers, outstanding livestock auctioneer of Hamlin, will act as auctioneer for the boxes of food.

Plans are well underway for the annual Hamlin High School Carnival slated February 7, under auspices of the Student Council.

Jerry Crowley was awarded the grand championship trophy for his Poland China barrow at the Abilene Fat Stock Show last week-end.

Follow The Signs

Imagine yourself in a train depot in a foreign country, and the signs are in a language unfamiliar to you. You know that the signs are there to direct you, and you try to figure them out, but despite your best efforts you are not sure of your interpretation. The natural thing to do then, is to check with an attendant and have him explain things to you.

The Bible is a sign given to us, and directs us in a pathway of living. Interpreting these directions is not always easy, so the natural thing to do, should be to seek someone to help us. Our churches have many trained personnel who are familiar with the language of the Bible. Attend Church this week and follow God's way of life.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

MAKE AMERICA A BETTER PLACE.

LEAVE THE COUNTRY.

Of all the ways America can grow, one way is by learning from others.

There are things you can learn in the Peace Corps you can't learn anywhere else.

You could start an irrigation program. And find that crabgrass and front lawns look a little ridiculous. When there isn't enough wheat to go around in Nepal.

You could be the outsider who helps bring a Jamaican fishing village to life, for the first time in three hundred years. And you could wonder if your country has outsiders enough. In Watts. In Detroit. In Appalachia. On its Indian reservations.

Last year, for the first time, Peace Corps alumni outnumbered Volunteers who are now out at work overseas.

By 1980, 200,000 Peace Corps alumni will be living their lives in every part of America.

There are those who think you can't change the world in the Peace Corps.

On the other hand, maybe it's not just what you do in the Peace Corps that counts.

But what you do when you get back.

Neinda Philosopher Comes Out for Just One More Piece of Legislation National Car-Care

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One tries to launch a campaign this week which we're not sure about.

Dear editor:
I was behind on my newspaper reading, tied up with getting a new farming year on this Johnson grass farm and a new administration in Washington underway both in the same month, so was pleased when I found a copy of The Reporter News lodged against a rear tire on my tractor yesterday, which I pulled off and took to the house and read. The tire was flat so there wasn't any chance of getting any work done that day. If it inflates itself overnight I'll resume work tomorrow.

The paper reported on President Nixon's inaugural address and it read all right to me, except for one thing. Mr. Nixon said we probably have about all the legislation we can handle for awhile, the thing to do is to bring some life to the programs we've already got, and that's mostly right.

However, there's one piece of legislation I wish he'd undertake. I thought of it when I took my 1959 car into town to see why it was using a quart of oil a day, and was told it could be fixed, but while they were at it they might as well replace the muffler which broke when the wire I had it tied up with rusted in two, and ought to also put new sleeves in the cylinders, grind the valves, repair the radiator, eliminate a short in the wiring system, and a few other odds and ends that'd come to around $400, more or less, plus parts. I understand. When a mechanic or a doctor goes into a motor or a body he's not always sure what he'll find.

I got to thinking. Look, we've got Social Security, Welfare, Medicaid, Medicare, etc., but man's greatest love, his car, has been shamefully neglected. What this country now needs Mr. Nixon, if a man is to be at peace with himself and realize his full potentialities, is National Car-Care.

Keeping a car going is one of the heaviest burdens a man faces in this life, and the more complicated a car gets the heavier the burden.

What this country needs, before we stop all new legislation, is government-sponsored Chevycare, Fordcare, Ponticare, Mercurocare, Buiccare, and, might as well go whole-hog, the Supreme Court would throw it out if we didn't, Chryslercare and Cadillacare. We can leave the matter of foreign cars to the next administration.

I will leave the details to Congress, so long as the basic idea is covered and a man will know that when he buys a car he won't be running up bills for his grandchildren, a field which properly belongs to the government anyway.

I like to put first things first, and if it works on cars, we could round out the package by adding tractor-care. Forget bike-care and trike-care. Let the youngsters learn something about the generation gap.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.
